SCRS Position Statement: Anti-Trust Guidelines

Statements made in the printed material presented, or statements made by the speaker are for your consideration and you should weigh these materials on an individual basis and judge what you think is good for your business or what is bad for your business. We caution you that any decision-making agreements made by two or more competitors can be construed as price fixing which is a criminal violation of the anti-trust laws of the United States, and should be avoided for your protection and the protection of others attending.

Through its direct members and 31 affiliate associations, SCRS is comprised of 5,000 collision repair businesses and 58,500 specialized professionals who work with consumers and insurance companies to repair collision-damaged vehicles. Additional information about SCRS including other news releases is available at the SCRS web site: www.scrs.com. You can e-mail SCRS at the following address: info@scrs.com.
